Cobham Social News

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
COBHAM, VA., August 7.—Probably there has never been a more acceptable main at Cobham than the fine one which fell on Saturday and Sunday last, bringing hope to the farmers again after the long and drought, and literally making the corn laugh and sing. It is now likely that there will be an average crop, besides the regular treatment of burnt-up gardens, pastures and grass generally. The women of the Episcopal Church of Cobham, Clamont and Keswick had a most successful bazaar at Grace Church rectory on the 27th of July, and made the entire home again a more acceptable main at Cobham than the fine one which fell on Saturday and Sunday last, bringing hope to the farmers again after the long and drought, and literally making the corn laugh and sing.
